Claim Objections

Claim 2 is objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c), as being of improper dependent form for failing to further limit the subject matter of a previous claim. Applicant is required to cancel the claim(s), or amend the claim(s) to place the claim(s) in proper dependent form, or rewrite the claim(s) in independent form. The above claim does not fairly further limit independent apparatus claim 1 because it recites only a limitation dealing with the manner or method in which the claimed apparatus is to be employed (for containing molten aluminum). It has been well settled that the manner or method of use of an apparatus cannot be relied upon to fairly further distinguish claims to the apparatus itself. See In re Casey, 152 USPQ 235 and MPEP 2114.

Double Patenting

A rejection based on double patenting of the "same invention" type finds its support in the language of 35 U.S.C. 101 which states that "whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process ... may obtain a patent therefor ..." (Emphasis added). Thus, the term "same invention," in this context, means an invention drawn to identical subject matter. See Miller v. Eagle Mfg. Co., 151 U.S. 186 (1894); In re Ockert, 245 F.2d 467, 114 USPQ 330 (CCPA 1957); and In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970).

A statutory type (35 U.S.C. 101) double patenting rejection can be overcome by canceling or amending the conflicting claims so they are no longer coextensive in scope. The filing of a terminal disclaimer cannot overcome a double patenting rejection based upon 35 U.S.C. 101.

Claims 1, 2, 5, 6, 7 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 as claiming the same invention as that of claims 1 (with respect to instant claims 1 and 2), 3, 4, 5 and 6 respectively, of prior U.S. Patent No. 6,680,023 B2. This is a double patenting rejection.

Art Unit: 1742

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claim 4 is rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 1 of U.S. Patent No. 6,680,023 B2. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because claim 1 of the '023 patent shows all aspects of the above claims except the specific use of a metal alloy comprising an Ag-Cu alloy, although the broad range of claim 1 of the '023 patent includes such alloys (claim 1 of the '023 patent includes in its alloy range all alloys having a melting point above that of the contained metal, which is not named, thereby allowing for the use of any alloy). It has been well settled that where the applied prior art discloses a broad range of compositions which includes an claimed range, motivation to select the claimed range from the broadly disclosed prior art range, absent any properly shown new or unexpected results arising from the use of the claimed range, would have been a modification obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made. See In re Wertheim, 191 USPQ 90, and MPEP 2144.05 I. In the instant case, since the '0-23 patent describes all alloys within the broadly disclosed range as equally useful, motivation to select any particular alloy within the broad range of the '023 patent, including Ag-Cu alloys, would have been a modification obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Eckert'067, Eckert'928 B2 and Eckert'118 B2 are also cited as further examples of prior art crucibles.
